TENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF OPERATIONS
UNDER THE AIRPORT AND AIRWAY DEVELOPMENT ACT OF 1970
AS AMENDED BY THE AIRPORT AND AIRWAY DEVELOPMENT ACT
AMENDMENTS OF 1976

Section 24 of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970 (Public Law 91-258) requires that the Secretary, Department of Transportation, submit an annual report to Congress of operations under Part II of the Act for the preceding fiscal year. This report covers operations for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1979.

INTRODUCTION

With the enactment of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-258) the Nation moved toward improving the efficiency and safety of the airport and airway system. Reflecting the role of aviation in the economy and the benefits derived from safe and efficient operation, that statute (1) found the airport and airway system inadequate to meet the requirements of the then current and projected growth in aviation, (2) declared substantial expansion and improvement was required to meet the demands of interstate commerce, the postal service, and national defense, and (3) established an expanded program of Federal matching grants to sponsors of airports serving commercial and general aviation. Moreover, the Act established a system of user taxes paid into a trust fund to provide an assured, long-term source of funding.

The Act had been amended three times as of the end of Fiscal Year 1979. It was amended in 1971 (P.L. 92-174) to incorporate provisions involving the use, preservation, and priority for expenditure of funds from the Trust Fund. The Airport Development Acceleration Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-44) made further amendments to the 1970 Act, increasing annual authorizations for fiscal years 1974 and 1975 and increasing the Federal contribution for grants at most airports. The Airport and Airway Development Act Amendments of 1976 (P.L. 94-353 approved July 12, 1976) made several major changes to the Act, affecting among other things project eligibility, increased overall funding levels, distribution of funds, the project approval process, the percentage of the Federal contribution for most projects, extension of the planning grant program and the revisions to the National Airport System Plan.

THE AIRPORTS PROGRAM

The Airports Program covers the identification, planning, and development of the Nation's system of public airports to serve the needs of civil aviation in the fifty states, Guam, Puerto Rico, American Samoa, the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, and the Virgin Islands.

It is based primarily on provisions of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970 (Public Law 91-258), and the Airport and Airway Development Act Amendments of 1976 (P.L. 94-353) which amended P.L. 91-258. These laws provide legislative recognition of an important national need for improvement in the national airport and airway system. Airport system improvements aimed at increased system capacity and the accommodation of higher performance aircraft has been the goal of the Airports Program. Federal involvement is designed to assist municipalities and other public agencies that own and operate the civil airports of this country in funding airport planning and development that will (1) help assure environmental acceptability and (2) provide for increased safety in airport operations.

Principal activities in this program include: preparation of a National Airport System Plan and other airports planning activities; administering a program of grants-in-aid for airport planning and airport development; preparation of airport engineering, operations and safety standards; airport certification and inspection for safety of operations; participation in transfers of Federal land and property for civil airport use; field collection of data for the airport data program; assuring that public agencies receiving Federal assistance continue to operate their airports for the benefit of the public in accordance with their agreements and a general aviation grant state demonstration program.

AIRPORT PLANNING

National Airport System Plan (NASP). The Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970, as amended, requires the Secretary of Transportation to prepare a ten-year National Airport System Plan for the development of public airports in the U.S. adequate for the needs of civil aeronautics, the requirements of national defense, and the special needs of the Postal Service. In developing the plan, the Secretary is directed to give due consideration to the relationship of each airport to local transportation systems, forecast technological developments in aeronautics, other modes of intercity transportation, and factors affecting the quality of the national environment. Prepared by FAA, the first edition of the NASP covering the years 1972 through 1982 was submitted to Congress in June 1973 and released to the public in September 1973. A revised NASP, 1978-1987, was delivered to Congress in January 1978. The NASP is kept current, between major editions, by continuing revisions to a computer-stored data bank. Many of the revisions include the findings of airport master and system plans funded under the Planning Grant Program (PGP).

The current NASP includes about 3,600 locations, for which a total of $12.7 billion in airport development needs is identified for the ten-year period.

NATIONAL AIRPORT SYSTEM GROWTH

ENVIRONMENTAL CONSIDERATIONS

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) considers and weighs environmental values in evaluating proposed Federal actions relating to airports. Federal actions of potential environmental concern include: (1) adoption of the National Airport System Plan, (2) approval of an airport location, (3) approval of a new or revised airport layout plan, (4) approval of funding for airport development, (5) requests for conveyance of government land for airport purposes, and (6) approval of the release of airport land.

The environmental assessment and consultation process provides the FAA, other agencies, and members of the public with an understanding of the potential environmental impacts of a proposed action. Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA) requires an environmental impact statement when an action would produce a significant impact on the environment; otherwise, a finding of no significant impact is prepared. Special consideration and findings are required under section 16(c)(4) of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970, as amended (Airport Act), for projects involving airport location, runway location, or major runway extensions. Other laws have particular requirements relative to specialized concerns such as air quality, water quality, public recreational lands, historic and archeological sites, endangered species, coastal zones, wetlands, and floodplains.

Initial review of proposed Federal airport actions identifies the extent of environmental study and coordination required. If an action does not have the potential, either individually or through cumulative effects, of significantly affecting the environment, it is categorically excluded from environmental processing. As experience has been gained in the environmental field, FAA procedures have categorically excluded more and more projects from environmental processing.

In Fiscal Year 1979, 8 Federal airport actions were environmentally approved through environmental impact statements prepared pursuant to NEPA, and 53 actions were approved through findings of no significant impact under section 16(c)(4) of the Airport Act. The majority of actions had no measurable impact and were categorically excluded from further environmental review.

On November 29, 1978, the Council on Environmental Quality published its final regulations establishing uniform Federal procedures for implementing the procedural provisions of NEPA. These regulations prompted the preparation of new implementing procedures by each Federal agency to fit its own programs. The Airports program's implementing procedures are contained in Appendix 6 of FAA Order 1050.1C, Policies and Procedures for Considering Environmental Impacts. Additional, more detailed guidance on how to assess environmental impacts and prepare environmental documents is published separately in a handbook.

The Airports program procedures and detailed guidance have been developed over the past year with three major new directions. One is the revision of the environmental assessment document to streamline it and make it usable as the key mechanism for determining whether any potential impacts appear significant enough to warrant further study and to require the preparation of an environmental impact statement. To help accomplish this, the second major effort has been the development of thresholds of significance for each category of impact. When the analysis required in the environmental assessment shows that a particular threshold (of noise, for example) would not be exceeded by the proposed action, no further analysis of that impact is required. If no categories of impact exceed their thresholds of significance, the FAA will prepare a brief finding of no significant impact. When certain thresholds are exceeded and an environmental impact statement is required for the proposed action, further detailed study will be performed only on those impacts with significant implications. The third major thrust of the new guidance has been to integrate all other special purpose environmental laws and requirements (e.g., endangered species legislation, coastal zone management programs, executive orders on wetlands and floodplains) with the NEPA procedures to achieve the Department of Transportation's objective of one-step environmental processing for Federal actions.

AIRPORTS PROGRAMS

PLANNING & DEVELOPMENT GRANT-IN-AID PROGRAMS

FISCAL YEARS 1947 THROUGH 1980

PLANNING GRANT PROGRAM (PGP)

The Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970, as amended, authorizes the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) (through delegation from the Secretary of Transportation) to make grants to planning and public agencies for preparation of airport system and master plans respectively. The program is designed to promote the effective location and development of publicly owned airports and to develop a national airport system plan.

System plans are developed by a state or areawide planning agency to formulate air transportation policy, determine airport facility requirements needed to meet forecast demands, and to establish the framework for detailed airport master planning. Airport master plans, which are developed by the airport owner, focus on the nature and extent of development required to meet the future aeronautical demand at a particular facility over a 20-year period.

Since the inception of this program in fiscal year 1971, 1,870 planning grants have been issued totalling $86.8 million. Of these, 1,689 were for master plans and the remaining 181 were for system planning projects. Included in the latter were the initiation of state system plans for 45 states, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

When the program first began, the Federal Government provided up to two-thirds of the cost of planning grant projects. However, the enactment of the Airport and Airway Development Act Amendments of 1976 increased the Federal share of planning projects. The Federal Government now provides 75 percent of the cost of airport system plans. During fiscal year 1979, the Federal participation rate in the cost of airport master plans was 80 percent for general aviation airports and varied from 75 to 80 percent for air carrier airports depending upon the number of passengers enplaned. The participation rate in master plans may be higher in public land states.

During fiscal year 1979, $15,336,093 was obligated through the PGP for 241 projects. Discounting recoveries from closeout of prior year grants, the net obligation for fiscal year 1979 totalled $14,999,997. This amount exhausted all but slightly less than a few dollars of available program funds and exceeded the previous obligational record of $14.3 million in fiscal year 1977. Twenty-four of the 241 projects ($2,912,489 in PGP funds) were for airport system planning. The remaining 217 projects ($12,423,604 in PGP funds) were for airport master plans at 75 air carrier/commuter and 142 general aviation/reliever locations. A breakdown by location of the grants is shown in Appendices A and B.

Emphasis in airport planning and development will be placed upon maintaining the viability of our existing airports to accommodate the projected increase in aviation demand. A critical issue affecting the viability of the existing system is the annoyance caused by noise from aircraft taking off and landing at these facilities. The airport owner is primarily responsible for the effect of aircraft noise on the community and developing action plans to reduce the impact of the noise. To assist airport owners in carrying out the responsibility, the Department of Transportation established a pilot program to encourage the development of airport noise control and land use compatibility plans as part of PGP funded master plans. During fiscal year 1979, grants totalling $2,361,594 were issued to 16 additional airports for such planning. With the 29 grants issued in fiscal years 1977 and 1978, a total of 45 airports are participating in the program. This aspect of the airport planning process has helped to establish a forum for dialogue between airport operators and noise impacted jurisdictions. Airport users and citizens also are playing an important role in this examination of the airport and noise. Because of the preliminary indications of success of this work, any eligible airport sponsor with noise problems will be able to incorporate noise planning into its overall master planning of the airport under Federal aid projects.

Another noteworthy accomplishment during the year was the issuance of 15 grants totalling $1,617,113 in PGP funds for continuous airport system planning. The objective of continuous planning is to insure that existing system plans remain responsive to the air transportation needs of the area. To accomplish this objective, grants are given to the responsible planning agencies to continuously monitor aviation activity and update, as necessary, the appropriate sections of the system plans. We feel this is an efficient way to keep system plans current and can effectively strengthen the aviation expertise of state and metropolitan area planning organizations. A system plan that is not maintained through continuous planning usually has a five-year life. At that time, a grant to completely update the initial system plan otherwise might be sought by the sponsor.

AIRPORT DEVELOPMENT AID PROGRAM (ADAP)

Section 14 of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970, as amended, authorizes the Secretary of Transportation to make airport development grants in order to bring about, in conformity with the National Airport System Plan (NASP), the establishment of a nationwide system of public airports adequate to meet the present and future needs of civil aeronautics. The Airport and Airway Development Act Amendments of 1976 (P.L. 94-353), enacted on July 12, 1976, contain additional funding and add several new eligible items of development.

The 1976 Amendments raised the annual program level from $310 million, established in 1973, to a range of $500 million to $610 million over the five-year period through fiscal year 1980. This provides $435 to $525 million annually for airports serving all segments of aviation including a category of air carrier airports identified as commuter, and $65 to $85 million annually for general aviation airports, including airports that relieve congestion at high density locations. (Charts on pages 13 and 14 show the percentage distribution of the annual contract authority in accordance with sections 15a(3) and 15a(4) respectively.) It also revised the percentage of Federal participation in eligible airport development upward from previous levels of 50 and 75 percent. ADAP participation at all except the busiest airports was 90 percent through September 30, 1978, and then dropped to 80 percent for fiscal years 1979 and 1980. Air carrier airports, other than commuter airports, whose total annual passenger enplanements are one-quarter of one percent or more of the total annual passenger enplanements of all such airports receive Federal participation at 75 percent. There are slight upward adjustments in states containing a high percentage of public land that result in Federal participation up to 93.75 percent of project costs.

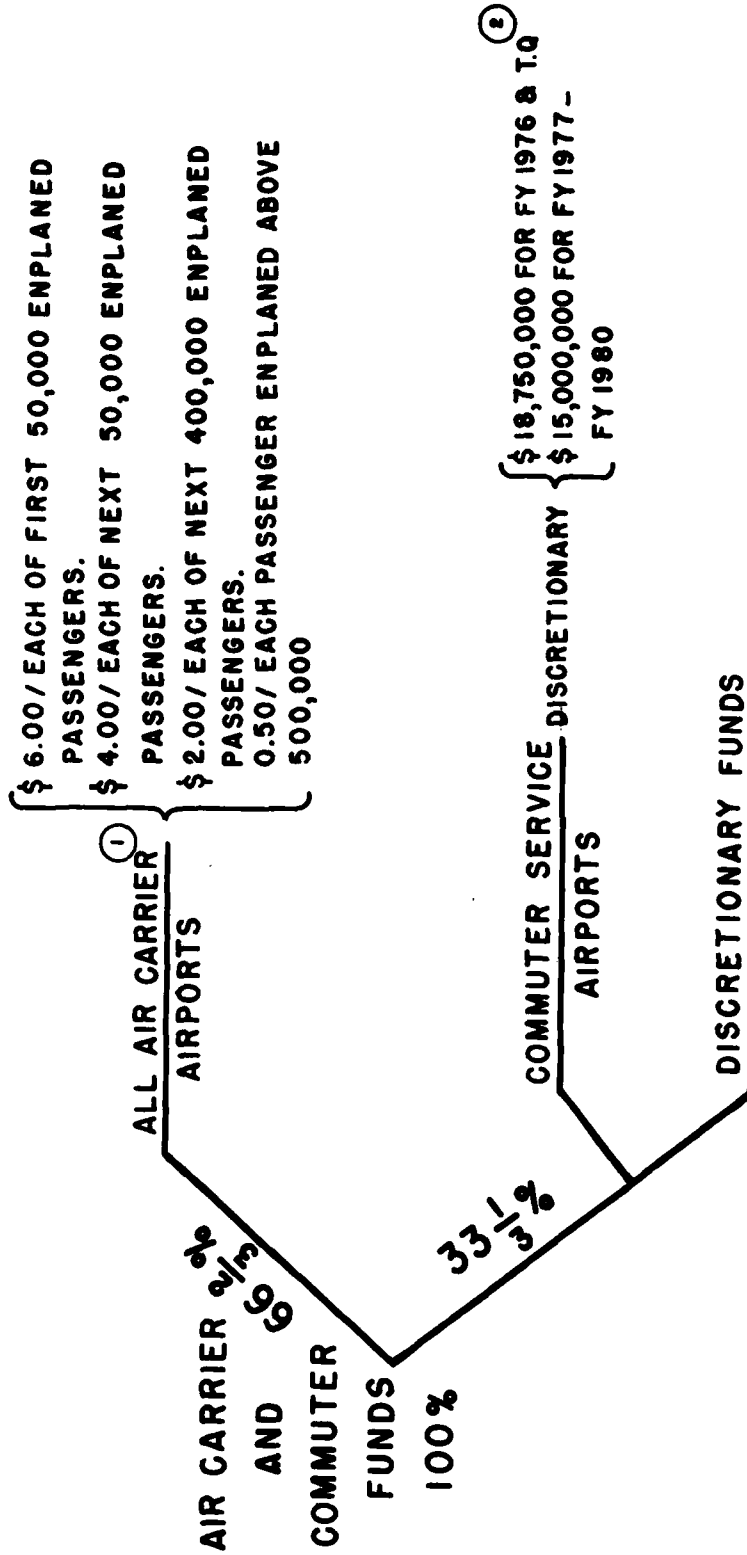

The 1976 Amendments permit certifications to be accepted from sponsors indicating that they will comply with all program statutory and administrative requirements; allow for multi-year grants for ADAP projects extending over several years; and authorize funds for grants to states to assist them in developing their own general aviation airport development standards, other than standards for safety of approaches. A maximum of $25,000 may be granted to a single state for development of standards.

Demonstration Project at South Bend, Indiana.

Development of a multimodal terminal building as a demonstration project at South Bend, Indiana, was authorized by the 1976 Amendments to the Airport and Airway Development Act. The St. Joseph County Airport Authority (the Airport sponsor) and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) executed a contract in August 1978 for $3 million. Actual construction started in September 1979 and is estimated to be completed in September 1981. The terminal building is to include a collocated air and bus terminal with provision for a future train terminal and a direct link to the South Shore Railroad line.

PRIMARY GOALS

The primary goals of the ADAP are to:

Encourage the safe development and implementation of airport development programs consistent with national transportation goals and with goals determined locally through areawide planning programs.

Provide financial assistance to sponsors interested in developing safe and efficient airport facilities.

Improve the safety and economic efficiency of the system by encouraging uniformity in development within appropriate safety and design standards.

Promote the timely development of airport facilities needed to minimize delays due to congestion in the system.

Assure consistency of airport development with other aviation facility installations programmed under the Facilities and Equipment Program of the FAA.

Assist in the acquisition of nonpublic-owned airports where national system need has been identified and communities have committed themselves to public ownership and maintenance of the airport.

Mitigate, to the extent practical, adverse environmental effect of aircraft operations.

STATUTORY CRITERIA

The statutory criteria relating to the ADAP are:

The project has to be reasonably consistent with plans (existing at the time of approval of the project) of planning agencies for the development of the area in which the airport is located and will contribute to the accomplishment of the purposes of the Act.

Sufficient funds must be available for that portion of the project costs which will not be paid by the United States.

The project has to be completed without undue delay.

The public agency or agencies which submit the project application must have legal authority to engage in the airport development as proposed.

All project sponsorship requirements prescribed by or under the authority of the Secretary have to be met.

A public agency, or the United States or any agency thereof, must hold good title to the landing area of the airports or the site thereof, or give assurance satisfactory to the Secretary that good title will be acquired.

The project has to include provision for the installation of the landing aids specified in the Act and determined by the Secretary to be required for the safe and efficient use of the airport by aircraft, taking into account the category of the airport and the type and volume of traffic utilizing the airport.

Fair consideration must be given to the interest of communities in or near which the project may be located.

The Secretary will not approve a project involving airport location, a major runway extension, or runway location if, after consultation with the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) (function has been delegated to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)) and the Secretary of the Interior, it is found to have an adverse effect on natural resources, including but not limited to fish and wildlife, natural scenic and recreation assets, water and air quality, and other factors affecting the environment, unless the Secretary, following a full and complete review, renders a finding which would be a matter of public record that no feasible and prudent alternative exists and that all possible steps will be taken to minimize such adverse effect.

The public agency sponsoring the project, if it involves airport location, an airport runway, or a runway extension, has to certify to the Secretary that there was afforded the opportunity for public hearings for the purpose of considering the economic, social, and environmental effects of the airport location and consistency with the goals and objectives of such urban planning as has been carried out by the community.

The Secretary will not approve any project involving airport location, major runway extension, or runway location unless the governor of the state in which such project is located certifies, in writing to the Secretary, that there is reasonable assurance that the project will be located, designed, constructed, and operated so as to comply with applicable air and water quality standards. Where no state standards are approved or where such standards were promulgated by the Secretary of the Interior or the Secretary of HEW (function delegated to the EPA), certification will be obtained from the appropriate Secretary. Notice of certification or of refusal to certify will be provided within 60 days after the project application is received by the Secretary.

The Secretary conditionally approves any such project application based on compliance during construction and operation with applicable air and water quality standards.

Airport development is included in the NASP and complies with the airport development standards formulated or approved by the Secretary of Transportation.

As a condition precedent to approval of airport development projects, sponsors must give written assurances to the Secretary as shown in section 18 of the Act. There must be consultation with air carrier operators at air carrier airports and fixed base operators on general aviation airports prior to making a decision regarding any proposed development.

PROGRAM CRITERIA FOR ADAP

In order to meet the intent of the legislation, criteria have been developed to accommodate the goals set forth in the Act. Recognition is given to the needs of all segments of aviation and to the prime goals of improving safety and increasing capacity.

Priorities are determined from a numerical rating table through which various factors are weighed, such as work essentiality, NASP code, and timing of need. This process is not purely a mathematical computation, but rather the exercise of judgment in the application of these guidelines.

Programs of approved projects are developed on a continuing basis and allocations announced periodically. All requests within a given state, when projects meet basic eligibility requirements, are assigned a priority rating and programmed to the extent of available funds. Programs are monitored on a national basis to assure that the priority level of projects is uniformly applied throughout the Nation.

IMPLEMENTATION

Policy and procedures for administering the ADAP are developed and published in Part 152, Federal Aviation Regulations, including guidance on: (1) procedures for submission of requests for aid; (2) consideration of environmental effects; (3) eligibility of airport development items or facilities, such as crosswind runways or navigation aids; (4) landing aid requirements; (5) requirements for public hearings to consider the social, economic, and environmental aspects of proposed airport development; (6) applicability and effect of the Uniform Relocation and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act; and, (7) project approval.

Airport Development Aid Program Apportionments for Fiscal Year 1979

Appendix C to this report provides the apportionment of the $575 million authorization for fiscal year 1979 under the ADAP for airport development projects. Each air carrier airport sponsor and the Governor of each state or the chief executive officer of the equivalent jurisdiction were notified of the sums apportioned in accordance with sections 15(a)(3)(A) and 15(a)(4)(A) of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970, as amended.

Fiscal Year 1979 Development Activity

Under the ADAP, obligations amounted to $636.0 million, of which $515.4 million was for 858 new grant agreements, $5.4 million for up to 10 percent increases in existing ADAP grant agreements, and $115.2 million for multi-year grant amendments. This represents an all time high in terms of the number of grants issued and dollars obligated.

The difference between the $636.0 million in obligations and the authorized obligating level of $575.0 million reflects the add-on of $54.1 million in discretionary funds provided in the fiscal year 1979 Department of Transportation Appropriations Act (P.L. 95-335) and the use of recoveries from prior years' obligations.

The largest percentage of these funds was utilized to establish or improve system safety and capacity development, such as new runways, runway extensions, taxiways, apron areas, approach aids, airfield lighting, crash/fire/rescue vehicles, and snow removal equipment, and to upgrade air safety in metropolitan areas by improving satellite airport facilities for general aviation activity.

The new grant agreements utilized approximately $397.6 million for 496 projects at air carrier airports, including 65 projects at commuter airports, and $117.8 million for 362 projects at general aviation airports, including 69 projects at reliever airports.

In addition to the funds obligated during fiscal year 1979, commitments for fiscal year 1980 obligations through multi-year grant agreements and advance programming were made to sponsors in the amount of $108.5 million.

The 858 airport development projects for which grant agreements were executed during fiscal year 1979 are summarized in Appendix D by state and listed in Appendix E with descriptive work items.

GENERAL AVIATION STATE DEMONSTRATION PROGRAM

Section 28 of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970 as amended by P.L. 94-353 of July 12, 1976, authorized the Secretary of the Department of Transportation to conduct a four-State demonstration program to test the ability of the States to administer the general aviation portion of the Federal Airport Development Aid Program (ADAP). The states selected were Arizona, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and South Dakota.

Actual grant activity began for these four states in FY 1977 with the issuance of grant offers by the FAA and their formal acceptance by the states. Additional grants to these states were issued in FY 1978. The dollar amounts issued to each state are indicated below:

State	FY 1977 Amount	FY 1978 Amount	Total Amount
Arizona	$1,068,967	$1,191,085	$2,260,052
Michigan	$1,630,900	$2,029,071	$3,659,971
Pennsylvania	$2,482,430	$1,586,807	$4,069,237
South Dakota	$ 687,862	$ 678,838	$1,366,700

An evaluation report on the results of the administration of the program by the four states was submitted to the Congress in June 1978. The results were generally satisfactory although certain technical program discrepancies surfaced. A follow-up evaluation was conducted in Fiscal Year 1979 with similar results.

Although the FAA issued no further grants under the demonstration program, the states could continue to award new grants to airport sponsors through Fiscal Year 1979 using unspent carryover funds and funds recovered from project underruns. This activity is detailed in Appendix F.

STATE STANDARDS PROGRAM

Section 16(g) of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970 as amended by P.L. 94-353 of July 12, 1976, authorizes the Secretary of the Department of Transportation to make grants to any state, upon application, for developing standards for airport improvements at general aviation airports within a state.

The purpose of this program is to provide the states greater flexibility in general aviation airport development by providing for construction standards that are more closely related to local conditions. Since the provisions of Section 16(g) are relatively brief, they are presented in their entirety below:

"Section 16(g). STATE STANDARDS

- (1) The Secretary is authorized to make grants to any State, upon application therefor, for not to exceed 75 per centum of the cost of developing standards for airport development at general aviation airports in such State, other than standards for safety of approaches. The aggregate of all grants made to any State under this paragraph shall not exceed $25,000.
- (2) The Secretary is authorized to approve standards established by a State for airport development at general aviation airports in such State, other than standards for safety of approaches, and upon such approval such State standards shall be the standards applicable to such general aviation airports in lieu of any comparable standard established under subsection (a) of this section. State standards approved under this subsection may be revised, from time to time, as the State or the Secretary determines necessary, subject to approval of such revisions by the Secretary.
- (3) There is authorized to be appropriated out of the Airport and Airway Trust Fund not to exceed $1,275,000 to carry out this subsection."

Guidance material regarding the program was published on March 1, 1977, in Advisory Circular 150/5100-13, Development of State Standards for General Aviation Airports.

During Fiscal Year 1979, four states submitted applications for the development of state standards and received grants in dollar amounts as indicated below:

State	Amount	Date of Grant Acceptance
Iowa	$25,000	February 1979
Texas	25,000	December 1978
Vermont	16,279	May 1979
Wisconsin	22,500	December 1978

Additional grants are anticipated as a result of each state being contacted by the FAA regional offices. Early indications are that six states plan to submit applications during Fiscal Year 1980.

CIVIL RIGHTS CONSIDERATION

The airport development assistance program subjects the grant recipient to coverage by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Section 30 of the Airport and Airway Development Act which is presented in its entirety below:

"Section 30. CIVIL RIGHTS

The Secretary shall take affirmative action to assure that no person shall, on the grounds of race, creed, color, national origin, or sex, be excluded from participating in any activity conducted with funds received from any grant made under title. The Secretary shall promulgate such rules as he deems necessary to carry out the purposes of this section and may enforce this section, and any rules promulgated under this section, through agency and department provisions and rules which shall be similar to those established and in effect under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The provisions of this section shall be considered to be in addition to and not in lieu of the provisions of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964."

Every application for airport development assistance must contain or be accompanied by an assurance that the assisted facility will be operated in compliance with Title VI and 49 CFR Part 21, Department of Transportation Regulations.

Compliance is monitored by the FAA Civil Rights Staff. Of the 2,050 airports currently obligated to Title VI compliance, 130 are reviewed on-site and the remainder off-site. The off-site review consists of a review of the annual report filed by each grantee.

There is a complaint mechanism by which persons who think they have been denied a Title VI guarantee may seek redress. Such complaints are investigated by the Office of the Secretary of Transportation. During the last fiscal year five complaints were received. None resulted in a denial to provide financial assistance.

During the same time 440 Title VI reviews were conducted. Although 32 reviews resulted in an initial determination by the FAA of noncompliance with 49 CFR Part 21, all such recipients subsequently achieved voluntary compliance and none resulted in a denial to provide financial assistance.

When an airport development assistance grant is for construction, the prime contractor and its subcontractors having contracts in excess of $10,000 are covered by Executive Order 11246 and rules and regulations of the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP) of the Department of Labor. The grantee is similarly covered if it participates in the construction.

Most of the airport development grants awarded during the fiscal year were for construction. Compliance with Executive Order 11246 and Department of Labor Regulations is monitored by the OFCCP. Beginning in October, 1978, contractor review responsibility was centralized in the OFCCP as the result of a Government reorganization, and 12 federal agencies, including the FAA, no longer have contract compliance review authority. During fiscal year 1979, no contractors assisted by the FAA were debarred from federally assisted government contracts or had such contracts terminated for failure to comply with Executive Order 11246.

It is the policy of the Department of Transportation to encourage and increase the participation of businesses owned and controlled by minorities, including women, in projects funded by the Department. In the FAA there is an on-going effort to further this commitment through the Minority Business Program specifically as it relates to Section 30 of the Airport Development Aid Program.

The latest survey shows that of an estimated 1254 business concessions at approximately 30 major U. S. airports, there were 54 minority business concessions or 4% of the total. It is anticipated that in the coming year continuing special emphasis and the advent of new DOT regulations will substantially increase the opportunities available for minority business enterprise.
